

additional information required. An individual applies to modify a license for an existing GMRS system using the same form and in the same manner as applying for a new GMRS system. Individuals should submit their applications, together with the filing fee, to the address specified in the Private Radio Services Fee Filing Guide.

(b) An applicant for a General Mobile Radio Service system license, sharing a multiply-licensed mobile relay station, may operate the system for a period of 180 days, under a Temporary Permit, evidenced by a properly-executed certification made on FCC Form 574-T, after mailing FCC Form 574 to the Commission.

(c) The application will be returned to the applicant if it is defective. An application is defective if:

(1) The form is not completely filled out;

(2) All necessary additional information is not included; or

(3) All necessary certifications have not been made (see, e.g., §95.75 (g)(2), (o) and (p)).

(d) The Commission may, without a hearing, grant an application in part or subject to terms or conditions or with privileges other than those requested. Such an action is presumed to be a grant of the application unless the applicant files a written rejection of the grant as made within 30 days from the date of the grant or the effective date of the grant, whichever is later. If the Commission receives rejection of such a grant, the Commission will vacate its original action and will set the application for hearing.

(e) A non-individual may not obtain a new GMRS system license. A non-individual that held a GMRS system license issued before July 31, 1987, may not make the following major modifications:

(1) Change the area of operation of the GMRS system;

(2) Add any stations to the GMRS system;

(3) Increase the number of units of the mobile station;

(4) Change the location of any land station in the GMRS system;

(5) Add one or more channels or channel pairs and/or change the assigned channel(s) or channel pair(s);

(6) Increase the transmitter power of an station in the GMRS system; or

(7) Increase the height of a station antenna in the GMRS system.

(f) A GMRS system licensee may notify the FCC of a change of name or a change of mailing address by sending a letter to the Federal Communications Commission, 1270 Fairfield Road, Gettysburg, PA 17325-7245. This does not, however, permit GMRS system license transferability (see §95.109). Nor does this suffice for corporate transfer of control—the provisions of §95.111 apply instead.

§95.73 System licensing.

(a) Application for a license for a new GMRS system or application to modify a licensed GMRS system is made on Form 574. The applicant must follow the Instructions for Completion of FCC Form 574 (available at FCC Field Offices).

(b) One set of forms must be used for each system the applicant wants the FCC to license.

(c) One form must be used to apply for the following stations in a GMRS system:

(1) The mobile station;

(2) All small base stations (see §95.25(e));

(3) All small control stations (see §95.25(d)); and

(4) All other land stations (at no more than 6 locations).

(d) An additional form must be used to apply for every six land stations in a GMRS system that cannot be listed in the preceding form.

(e) Form 574-T, Temporary Permit for a General Mobile Radio Service System, should be used if applicant is
